Dear Collier

Many thanks for your kind note. We have never enjoyed our lives better, the only drawback being the ill-health of my daughter, a fine clever girl of 20, but I am thankful to say she seems now getting better. My two eldest went a long round of country visits, over 2 months, & one exerted herself too much, & I fear something wrong with the spine in consequence.

I paid my 6/. for Part 6 of your truly valuable reprint of Pamphus by P.O.O. from this a few weeks ago, but I did not send £1 for Turberville, 1567, not being greatly encouraged <sup>(my reading of old books)</sup> in making, & its <sup>near</sup> coming to an end. It will be pretty well as much as I can do now to arrange materials already collected, & then I expect I shall see the last of such pursuits.

Yours very truly
